

2017.09.20

The language was not understood.

rights and jurisdiction over relevant waters as well as reached and has the honor to inform the follow

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China in matters relating to the maritime zone relative to the maritime zone of the Republic of China states

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

the government of the Republic of China
the government of the Republic of China

3) In this connection, the statements of the un-discriminating representatives of the Democratic Republic of China are also relevant to the situation in the South China Sea.

generate entrenches the 330 from the mainland and in the middle of the high sea as a basepoint to maritime space concerns the fundamental principles of the Convention and legitimate interest of the global 40

The rights are afforded to
The rights are afforded to 41

The rights are afforded to 42

The rights are afforded to 43

The rights are afforded to 44

The rights are afforded to 45

The rights are afforded to