

Mr. ...
...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

the principles to be applied to the proposed amendments. In order to be consistent with the principles, this regard is to be given to the proposed amendments. The proposed amendments are submitted to the States in order to be consistent with the principles.

As you know,

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

Subcommittee

margin. A portion of the proposed amendments is to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

the proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles. The proposed amendments are to be consistent with the principles.

