Introduction

Chairwoman

mortality rates, increases in life expectancy, reduction in average household size and integration of population factors into national and sectoral policies, plans and programmes. Consistent with the changing demographics, social and environmental conditions of the country, Jamaica has scheduled for the next 2 years, the revision and formulation of several critical policies and strategies including:

- Revision of the National Population Policy, the Youth Policy, the Policy for Senior Citizens, Policy on Poverty;

Finalization of the draft National Policy on International Migration;

The issues that have been central to the implementation of the ICPD PoA remain at the forefront of the 2030 Agenda. This signals the gravity of ~~population and development issues within the framework of "leaving no one behind"~~ behind". Bearing this in mind, the theme of this years' session is timely as we seek to strengthen the foundation on which programmes to achieve these initiatives have been implemented under a programme for the modernization

~~of civil service and civil service evaluation in this field.~~
