

Human Development

Fifty-first session, New York, April 2018

Presented by Mr. Paulo Saad, Chief, Planning Division, ECLAC

The Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) has a broad experience in the interlinkages of international migration, human rights and development. For decades, it has been mandated on Migration. The results of the meeting constitute an important contribution of the region to the process leading to the Global Compact.

ECLAC provides continuous support to the intergovernmental forums on migration in the region –the South American Conference on Migration and the Regional Conference on Migration and has many
