

39-th Session of the Commission on Population and Development
New York, 5 April 2006

Item 4 "General Debate on National Experience in Population Matters: International Migration and Development"

Statement

by Ms. Liliana Stankova

Head of Trade Mission of Western and Central Africa to the United Nations its part has been building up its migration policy in correspondence with the commitments undertaken in the process of accession of our country to the EU. This policy includes the mutual recognition of qualifications and coordination of social security schemes.

Since 2005 a network of embassies on labor and social matters has been established in EU member states.
