International Conference on Population and Development”

47th session of the Commission on Population and Development of the United Nations Economic and Social Council

New York, 12 April 2014

Mr. Chairman,

We would like to explain our position on the resolution just adopted by this Commission.

Mr. Chairman,

regarding their sexuality. In line with our belief that education is a main pillar for true achievement of sexual and reproductive health, as recent as February 2014, the Government of Malta updated its guidelines on sexuality education, for all schools throughout the country.

Mr. Chairman,

In this regard, Malta is therefore convinced that its continued implementation of the ICPD conforms to the letter and spirit of what was agreed by all of us twenty years ago in Cairo, an agreement which we have just reaffirmed.
