	The International Conference on Population and Development held in Cairo in 1994, and the 20 year Programme of Action adopted therein by the International Community changed the perceptions on how to handle population and development issues.
	This conference presented a paradigm shift whereby the international community agreed that popu-human rights – the right to life. Malta strongly believes that the right to life extends to the unborn child from the moment of conception, and that therefore the use of abortion as a means of resolving health or social problems is a denial of that right.
