NVPs, taking into full consideration the mutual responsibilities of all development actors and seeking a shared framework for annual reporting on an inclusive, universal post-2015 sustainable development agenda.

9. Greater responsiveness to non-state actors. Since the establishment of the United Nations, the Council has had a key mandate in managing the relationship of the United Nations with non-governmental organizations. Article 71 of the Charter provides the Council the sole authority to engage non-state
