

ME

RUARY 2010, UNITED NATION

segregation limits women's participation in economic policy and decision-making in the public sector and in reaching managerial and decision-making positions in the private