

independent assessment of the formal system.

My delegation also supports the provision of legal advice and guidance to staff by the Office of Staff Legal Assistance, as it could be effective resolving disputes before proceeding to a tribunal. However, legal representation for the staff should generally be arranged by staff themselves. In this context, we are willing to engage in further discussion not only in the financing but also in the mandate of the OSLA.