

again be conducted in good faith and as part of an inter-governmental process. The Group would also like to reiterate its request as per the previous sessions that no parallel meetings be held. Although there should be no question about the commitment of the Group, it becomes increasingly difficult to conduct parallel discussions since most of our delegations are small and cannot afford to be in two or three meetings at the same time.

Furthermore, the African Group would like to reaffirm its longstanding position that, negotiations in this Committee should within the formally allocated time. In this regard, the Group does not subscribe to any sort of negotiations in small configurations security in that country and facilitate the successful conclusion of the transition. During this session, the Group will endeavour to ensure that all the resources required by the Mission for effective implementation of its mandate are provided.

Moreover, we will be engaging with other delegations on the ~~issues of human resources management and the Partnership~~
