

U

transit countries to destination countries. This is absolutely essential if we are serious about halting the spread of organized transnational crime networks.

We have a long way to solve all the problems in connection with migration. Let us on this occasion reaffirm our commitment towards overcoming the challenges on a basis that respects the right of migrants as well as the rule of law.