Mr. Chairman,

Portugal would like to thank the UN Secretary-General for his latest report on the implementation of the United Nations Programme of Assistance in the Teaching, Study, Dissemination and Wider Appreciation of International Law. Portugal's views on the Programme follow closely those expressed by the UN Secretary-General.

The Programme has been running for fifty two years now. It is worth recalling the key role it has played in the teaching, study, dissemination and wider appreciation of International Law as a well-established means of strengthening international peace and security and promoting friendly relations and cooperation among States. The Programme's role is as crucial today as it was back in 1965.

Mr. Chairman,

Today, in a globalized era, the need for International Law awareness is greater than ever. Therefore, the ever-increasing demand for training and access to sources of International Law can only be seen as a good sign.

For this reason, we wish to commend the International Law Fellowship Programme in the Hague for providing comprehensive high quality training by organizing the Regional Courses in International Law. We also commend the Office of Legal Affairs' efforts to identify suitable permanent locations for organizing these courses on a regular basis in Africa, Asia and Latin America.
