

responsible for the most appalling crimes and atrocities, thereby, giving hope for justice to so many, by demanding strict adherence to the rules of international humanitarian law.

3. The increasing pattern where perpetrators of outside the original territories where they committed that crime, in order to escape prosecution, makes it imperative for all states to adopt legislation and measures which make it possible for such suspects

| by           | y the court is equitable and practical, especially in |
|--------------|---|
|              |   |
|              | Y   |
|              | ——————————————————————————————————————                |
|              |   |
| =     |   |
| ·            |   |
|       |   |
|       |   |
|              |   |
| A. T.        |   |
|              |   |
| I     |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
| 1            |   |
|       |   |
|              | Jacque .  |
| , I - |   |
|              |   |
|       |   |
|       |   |
|              |   |
| 5            | Commitment of the Federal Republic of Nigeria         |
| 1            | 7.900000000 Or 106 rederst Trenorme of Maeria         |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |
|              |   |

Universal Jurisdiction and reiterates its concern about the uncertainty of the application of this principle. We also call on the international to the abuse and political manipulations of the done to avoid even a hint of bias or political motivation.

I thank you for your attention.