Madam Chair

Allow meto begin with expressingdeep appreciation the International Law Commission and itsembers for the r

First both the guidelines and 4 specify he way of agreeing on the provisional application of a treaty. It is our understand with that prejudice to its specific form, a Staten question has to give its explicit consenatt fearty to be applied provisionally Consequent, by while we gree that an catenational organisation or international conference conservative a legal basis here provisional application of a treaty, report of the Commission. Rather than serving as a set weithvalue the tiv guidelines may be potentially used as generic model clauses or provisions for future negotiation on this topic

To drawsome more general conclusting multiplice work of the Commission to the protection of the sphere is, in our vienvex ample of an issue that is not well suited br the consideration the Commission While the topic its is findeed a very pertinent one cath hardly be solved by the tools to be multiplied to be a disposal.