Statement of the Secretary of the Advisory Committee on the United Nations
Programme of Assistance in the Teaching, Study, Dissemination and Wider Appreciation of International Law at the Sixth Committee meeting on the United Nations Programme of Assistance in the Teaching, Study, Dissemination and Wider Appreciation of International Law (1992-1993)

de droit international, respectivement pour l'Afrique, pour l'Asie et le Pacifique, et pour l'Amérique latine et les Caraïbes.

La coopération des commissions régionales des Nations Unies, ainsi que celle des pays hôtes, à savoir, le Chili, l'Éthiopie et la Thaïlande, ont contribué de façon importante à la tenue des Cours régionaux, et nous les en remercions. Nous tenons également à remercier la Cour internationale de Justice et les Pays-Bas pour leur soutien constant en ce qui concerne la tenue du Programme de bourses de perfectionnement en droit international.

Mr. Chair, distinguished delegates,

Among the eighty-seven (87) participants who attended the training programmes in the period under review, seventy-six (76) benefited from a scholarship covering all their costs. These 76 fellows came from 68 different states. I would like to highlight that we have ensured overall parity between women and men among participants in the four training programmes, and we continue to maintain gender representation and geographic diversity among lecturers.

Specific information regarding the participants, the number of applications and the curriculum of each programme is available in the report of the Secretary

I must note the demand for quality training in international law has grown significantly in this calendar year. We experienced record-breaking numbers of applications for the 2024 International Law Fellowship Programme and the 2024 Regional Course for Asia-Pacific. The number of applications of the remaining Regional Courses have bounced back to pre-pandemic levels, pushing the total number of applications processed for the 2024 training courses to an all-time high of 1,404. In this regard, I want to recognise the important role of Permanent Mission in the wider dissemination of information on the training programmes.

Mr. Chair, distinguished delegates,

The Office of Legal Affairs is very grateful to the General Assembly for including the Programme of Assistance in the regular budget. This allows the organization of several activities on a continuous basis. Nevertheless, in order to achieve the true potential of the Programme, voluntary contributions remain essential.
