(iv) Regularly including relevant disability data or

relevant qualitative facts, as appropriate, in relevant United Nations publications in the field of economic and social development;

(v) Should the methods be adopted by the Statistics Commission, assisting the National Statistical Offices (NSOs) to institutionalize the collection of disability data, using the agreed methods of data collection does not guarantee that the availability of disability data would increase automatically and immediately. The National Statistical Office (NSO) of a respective country needs to institutionalize the collection of disability data.
