

inflammatory rhetoric, propaganda campaigns or hate speech, sexual and gender-based violence and location of, or increased support to, militia or paramilitary groups. The Special Adviser also notes that the country continues witnessing inter-group tensions and patterns of discrimination against specific groups, including ethnic profiling in relation to violence and allegations of systematic attacks against specific populations. "These all constitute risk factors for atrocity crimes. Given their potential impact in triggering large-scale violence, allegations of hate speech by ethnic av
