

we can create new partnerships through north-south and south-south cooperation, and triangular cooperation for enhanced access to international public financing to advance Agenda 2030. In turn, this can help stimulate job creation, economic activities, and investments in social infrastructures including for health and education.

we need a sustainable solution to reverse the free fall of remittances. Lowering the cost of remittance transfer is highly important. We must