

Roumania

Development Effectiveness agenda we should collectively focus on how to best cooperate in a true partnership by identifying all suitable means of implementation in the most effective way, shifting from aid effectiveness to development effectiveness and effective partnerships.

Domestic public finance is by far the largest source of financing directly available to challenges. Developed countries and, increasingly, emerging economies have an important role