Portugal sees this inaugural meeting of the ECOSOC Forum on Financing for Development as an important moment for a first revision of the progress made since the adoption of the Addis Agenda. It is also an opportunity to lay the foundations for a robust and comprehensive follow-up mechanism of the 2030 agenda.

We have reached a crucial moment for international development with the agreements in Addis Ababa and later in New York, with the adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals. In Paris, we have also concluded a comprehensive global agreement on climate change, and we now have a wide set of indicators, which will be crucial to monitor progress in the implementation of the
