

WEDNESDAY

11 Dec 2019

15:00 16:30

Forests play an essential role in regulating and stabilizing the global climate, and are a key determinant of local, regional and global precipitation and temperature patterns.

S