

Slovensko predsedstvo EU 2008 Slovenian Presidency of the EU 2008 La Présidence slovène de l'UE 2008

UNITED NATIONS

52^{na} Session

Follow-up to the Fourth World Conference on Women and to the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly entitled "Women 2000: gender equality, development and peace for the twenty-first century"

Agenda Item 3

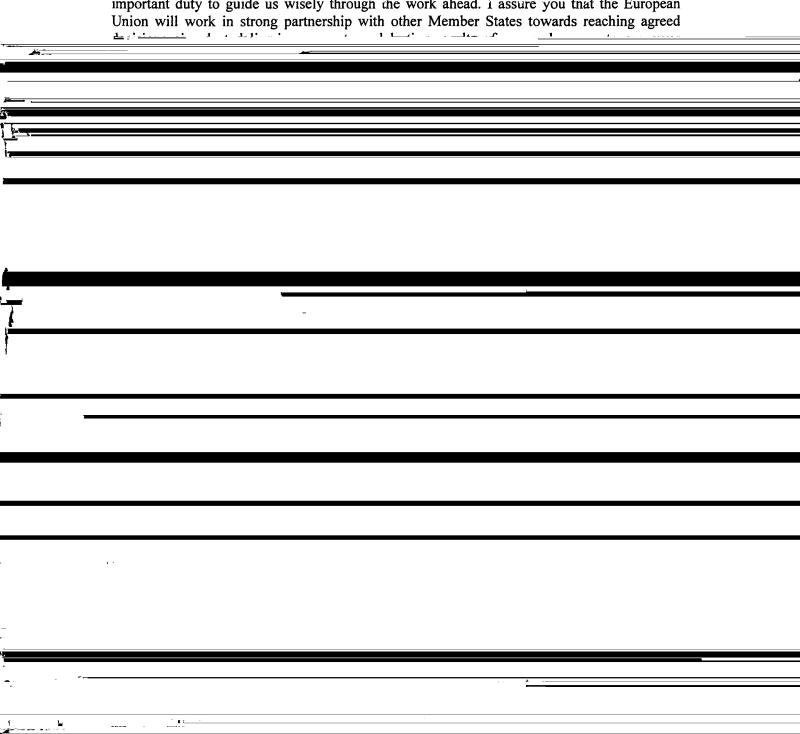

Statement by

Ms. Romana Tomc State Secretary Ministry of Labour, Family and Social Affairs Mr Chair,

It is an honour and privilege to address the opening session of the 52nd Commission on the Status of Women on behalf of the European Union.

The Candidate Countries Turkey, Croatia*, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia*, the Countries of the Stabilization and Association Process and potential candidates Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro and Serbia, as well as Ukraine and Armenia align themselves with this statement.

Let me at the outset congratulate you and other members of the Bureau on assuming the important duty to guide us wisely through the work ahead. I assure you that the European Union will work in strong partnership with other Member States towards reaching agreed

•, •	The transfer of the state of th
	· ·
d V
€,
ι
_	-
71-	·
* * *	spearhead a multiannual system-wide campaign to eliminate violence against women and girls through 2015. We all need to ensure adequate funding is available to eliminate discrimination against women, promote gender equality, and prevent and redress all forms and ·	manifestations of violence against women and support and assist victims and survivors and ensure their access to justice.
	The European Union considers the increase in female employment rates and the quality of Jobs the crucial steps for the empowerment of women, the promotion of gender equality and the achievement of the chiectives of development the fight assignment account and for all and a limit as a lin	,
	1

Along the same line, in 2006 the Council adopted a set of political conclusions on institutional mechanisms for the advancement of women, including a set of indicators to assess the process of the Commission on the Status of Women have proven that without the contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural stitutes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastagin impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seckers, migrants and
The meetings of the Commission on the Status of Women have proven that without the contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereorypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and gits' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and		Along the same line, in 2006 the Council adopted a set of political conclusions on institutional
The meetings of the Commission on the Status of Women have proven that without the contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender steerotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and		mechanisms for the advancement of women, including a set of indicators to assess the
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and		processos s e Europeace I Inion I anal
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and	-
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and
contribution of women's organisations and other civil society organisations we would not respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereovypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and an engotiation and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and the conflict of the con
respond proactively to the major concerns of our time, namely poverty, violence against girls and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIVVAIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and		The meetings of the Commission on the Status of Women have proven that without the and women in all its forms and manifestations, including trafficking and sexual tourism, discrimination against women manifested in gender stereotypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIVAIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and the second s discrimination against women manifested in gender stereorypes, violations of women's human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and human rights resulting from traditional and cultural attitudes and practices, including in matters related to sexual and reproductive health, the devastating impact of the HIV/AIDS pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and pandemic on women, and violations of women's and girls' human rights in armed conflicts and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum scekers, migrants and
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"		and during peace negotiations and of women refugees, asylum seekers, migrants and
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	F1 >-
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	,
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	[
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Emnowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	√ ¥
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	•
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	1
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	*
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	,
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"		l l
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"	`\
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"
"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"		•
		"Conclusions on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment in Development Cooperation"

	The European Consensus adopted in 2005 includes midelines for action and outlines objectives and five common principles of the European Union's institutions and Member States in development cooperation. One of these principles is gender equality. The Consensus highlights the importance of gender equality in the context of the new aid modalities.
•

1.

 . 1
;
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	The joint European Union commitment to gender equality as a core aspect of EU
Egy.	·
T I HALL I'LL
, (P
*

	climate change on their lives and well-being. The financing for gender equality and 7
	1
	t.
	we have a unique opportunity to address the promotion of gender equality, empowerment of women and climate change initiatives in a coherent manner.
	Before concluding, the European Union wishes to mention an issue, which is not on our agenda, but is nevertheless very relevant for all agenda items we will be dealing with. The